NOTICE

—TO—

GAS CONSUMERS.

IN compliance with a pledge made in their communication of February last, to the Hon. Mayor and Board of Aldermen, the have determined to reduce the price on their sales of Gas supplied on and after the

First Day of December next to the lowest rate then deemed possible, allowing a small profit on the capital invested, and pledge themselves that the price then established shall range among in other Southern and Southwestern cities.

Their apparatus, lately at great expense improved and extended, enables them to supply as pure, white and brilliant gas light as that supplied any where in the United States.

With reference to the month to month speculation gas bill, which they do not deem possible, the Company hereby give notice to their patrons and the public, that in case of any actual competition they will supply their demands at

One-Third, or Less than One-Third the Rates Established by such Competitors.

Their Works were constructed with a view of remunerating the owners for their investments, as well as for the public convenience. Notwithstanding such intention, they will sell or furnish of the price asked by any competing or opposing Company.

A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design erecting a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton most conveniently, and we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compressment from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, almost it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays

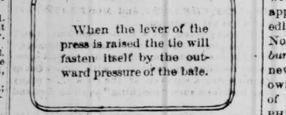
FASSMAN'S IRON TIES

—FOR—

COTTON BALES.



THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season.

In addition to the FASSMAN IRON TIE and BUTTON TIE, so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his ALLIGATOR TIE, with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale, and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized, but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy during the Autumn years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer Pianos at two to three hundred dollars less than any other First-Class Instrument.

To the use of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never failing to satisfy where tested to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness—does not destroy the middle and upper registers by uniting with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of these being greatly delighted to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, save four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly mounted, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep9 d&wly

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

A NEGRO riot is thus described by the Savannah Republican:

Early yesterday morning the various roads leading into our city were thronged with deluded and ragged negroes, who were en route to attend the confiscation-homestead meeting, announced to be held in Chippewa square. On Sunday night the poor, ignorant, misguided people, who had been led astray by the "Great Wauhoo," kept watch and ward over his house, patrolling and picketing the neighborhood for two squares on every side.

As the hour for the meeting drew on, the colored people commenced to congregate in Chippewa square in large numbers, all of whom appeared to be country negroes, from the plantations, but a few of the colored people of the city being mixed in the audience, and those were there, like a few white people, to gratify their curiosity. About 11 o'clock sometwo hundred negroes, most of them carrying clubs, pistols and other weapons, marched up Broughton and Bull streets, creating no little excitement, as they were escorting and acting as a bodyguard for the notorious and disreputable brawler. At the same time, as if by a concerted signal, another crowd approached from an opposite direction, many of them armed with loaded shot-guns and muskets. One venerable old colored man, who saw them, shouted: "Great God, look at dem dar muskets! Deys gwine to have a row suah! I'se gwine home. Come on, Jack!"

At the square, Aaron Bradley, who was mounted upon a table, called the meeting to order, and was made President; and other officers, all colored, were appointed. Striking his usual theatrical attitude, he commenced to read the call, and that finished, made a harangue to the people in attendance. Bradley talked for sometime, pitching into things generally, and especially the mulattoes and intelligent negroes of our city. He declared himself in favor of a pure black ticket. A collection was taken up, the greenbacks coming in quite freely. This concluded, the "Wauhoo" commenced yelling again, and the scene that ensued beggars description. Several blows were struck, blood flowed, and pistols and knives were flourished freely.

Word was instantly conveyed to the United States barracks, and in less time than it takes to tell of it, a battalion of troops, with fixed bayonets, who had been held in readiness for the emergency, were on the ground. When they arrived a bloody riot was on the point of breaking out, and nothing but their timely arrival was the means of averting bloodshed. The police force, which was drawn up in line, was also in readiness to quell any riot. By order of the Mayor, Lieut. Howard rode forward and ordered the crowd to disperse. The police and civil officers soon cleared the square, and they and the soldiers retained possession of the ground.

Several negro men and one or two women, who were engaged inciting the crowd to resist the police, were arrested immediately and conveyed to the police barracks. The crowd shortly after this assembled at Bradley's house, on Broughton street, blocking up that thoroughfare, from whence they were once more dispersed by the police force, but not until several arrests were made of the most turbulent men. Several pistols were drawn on officers, one or two shooting scrapes to resist Sheriff Cole, and to shoot Sheriff White, but the offenders were arrested before they had a chance to do any damage. Another crowd was dispersed from the same place later in the afternoon.

The Mayor and officers of the city government deserve high commendation for their indefatigable efforts to secure order and maintain the peace. But for the wise course pursued by them, riot and bloodshed would have ensued, and many human lives have been sacrificed.

Thus it is that the men or devils in the shape of men, who are everywhere in the South exasperating the negroes and exciting them to acts of outrage, are "laying up wrath against the day of wrath." They do nothing that it is not approved and lauded by that most wickedly mischievous and unprincipled of all Northern journals, the New York Tribune; and to it more than to any other newspaper in all the North, it will be owing, if the South is desolated by a war of races. It is the evil genius, the MEPHISTOPHELES, of the negro, and seems to hate the white men of the South, to malign whom it never omits an opportunity, as bitterly as a renegade hates those who adhere to the religion from which he has apostatized.

SOCIAL EQUALITY.

The Senate at Nashville, on the 25th inst., passed a bill making it a misdemeanor with a penalty of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, for any common carrier to make any distinction between race, color or previous condition, asking at their hands conveyance or any other service commonly rendered by them. A fine of one hundred dollars is also to be imposed upon the carrier so offending, to be paid to the person who is discriminated against.

The House had previously passed the bill with an amendment, allowing the carrier to set aside "special accommodations for ladies."

This was stricken out upon the suggestion of the wretchling SMITH, of Shelby. Go on, Legislators; and pile up your infamy as high as your slimy malice can crawl!

THE OHIO CANVASS.

The Ohio Statesman gives us an idea of the tremendous effort made by the Radicals to carry the State, by enumerating the number and giving the names of the Radical orators imported from other States, with the purpose to persuade the people to accept negro suffrage and negro equality. The Statesman says:

United States Senators Morton, of Indiana, Thayer and Nye, of Nebraska, Chandler, of Michigan, and Patterson, of New Hampshire, Gov. Baker, of Indiana; Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, and Representatives Kelley, of Pennsylvania, Washburne, Julian and Orth, of Indiana; McKee, of Kentucky; Logan and Cullom, of Illinois, invaded Ohio to teach the people the blessings, moral, social and intellectual, of negro suffrage, and with it negro political equality. In more than two-thirds the counties, they, in company with the Wades, Shencks, Shellabargers, Binghams, Eggletons, Dennisons, et al., "spoke from their pieces" in admiring throngs, with a result highly satisfactory to the Democracy.

IT is announced in the North Alabama papers that the gallant and distinguished Admiral Semmes will deliver a series of lectures, commencing in Tuscumbia on the 4th, Florence on the 5th, Decatur on the 6th, and Huntsville on the 7th proximo. The tickets of admission will be at the low figure of fifty cents.

THE President has appointed Joseph H. Thomson, Esq., of Shelbyville, Tenn., Consul to the Island of St. Thomas, West Indies. It is one of the most important commercial stations in the Gulf of Mexico, a large proportion of the trade of Europe and North America with the West Indies and South America touching at the principal port of the Island—making an aggregate of several thousand vessels per annum.

A DEMOCRATIC committee, who went to Washington on the 16th, to see President Johnson in regard to the New York election, returned in jubilant mood. The President informed them that it was of the largest importance to the country that New York should be carried by the Democracy, and to that end promised his visitors that everything that could be done on his his part to facilitate that result would be done without delay.

THE Louisville Courier says: An attempt has been made by several correspondents, pretending to act by the authority of the President to contradict the statement made to you that he would resist Congress if it tried to depose him unconstitutionally. I do not believe he has authorized these statements, because Andrew Johnson is a man of truth. I know he entertains the sentiments that you have made public, and I unhesitatingly declare that Hon. L. V. Bogy, of St. Louis, Hon. Dan. W. Voorhees, of Indiana, Hon. Thos. B. Florence, Fred. Akin, and others of this city can bear testimony that he has expressed these sentiments in stronger terms than I have represented them to you. The contradictions of the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun on this point are entitled to no credit. He pretends to a knowledge of which he knows nothing. I repeat, the President entertains these opinions, whatever he may do.

THE SUMNER SCANDALS.

Boston (October 21) Correspondence of the New York Express.]

A public man sometimes becomes so public that his private affairs command a publicity which it would be an affectation of the press not to notice. Hence I send you the following: Not two years ago the long known bachelor, Charles Sumner, became a Benedict. A highly educated, and in many respects an accomplished man, of good manners and better appearance, naturally enough, he stood high among the ladies of Boston, and he had no difficulty in winning the hand of a widow (from one of the F. F. of Boston), who sacrificed no inconsiderable fortune in marrying him. The honeymoon had all the apparent charm that honeymoons usually have, when Mrs. Sumner went with her husband to Washington, and new scenes ensued. Among the accomplished men comprising the Diplomatic Corps in Washington was Baron Holstein, of Prussia, whom the Prussian King had attached to the Prussian Legation there "to spy out the land." Naturally enough, he courted the acquaintance of families and individuals of influence. Sumner, the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the Senate, who at a dinner party introduced his wife to the Baron, and who was placed beside her at dinner. An acquaintance ensued, and a friendship followed, such as naturally and honorably sprung up between the sexes with kindred tastes and aspirations. The Baron attended to the lady in matinees and soirees, and in other public places, and occasionally escorted her from the Senate, where both had been to hear the Senator speak. Mr. Sumner, becoming displeased with the acquaintanceship—it cannot be properly called intimacy—wrote a letter to Baron Holstein, in which, while complaining of it, report says, he insinuated something not honorable to the wife. The Baron wrote back a letter, in which, in substance, he said there was no cause for offence whatever—he had been polite to Madame, as he was to other ladies of similar accomplishments, and nothing had ever happened which propriety or good taste forbade. But, if the Senator was not satisfied with that, he was ready to give him any such satisfaction as a man of honor demanded.

This correspondence was the beginning and end of part first; but Mr. Sumner, report says, then became cool to his wife, and the lady and the Baron became more reserved in their intercourse. Then Mr. Sumner, as Chairman of our Committee of Foreign Affairs, wrote to the Prussian Minister of Foreign Affairs, the distinguished Bismarck, that if he (Bismarck) would recall the Baron, he (Sumner) would be obliged. The adroit Bismarck yielded to the potential position of the American Chairman of Foreign Affairs, and the Baron was recalled to Berlin.

Mrs. Sumner next became acquainted with this correspondence, and, naturally enough, was indignant beyond all power of description. Her indignation naturally rested upon that part of the correspondence which, it was alleged, touched her honor, and the end of all this is, that Mrs. Sumner has gone her way to Europe—their common establishment in Washington been given up, and another is taken by the Senator for the winter.

There is some scandal afloat beyond all this, relating both to the Senator and the lady—such as may be expected from early denouments in such a marriage affair—but the basis of the reports in Boston is such as I send you. What I have written is in everybody's mouth, and it may possibly be correct in the main as of the details, but in substance probably correct. I send it to you for publication because what, if anything, is wrong here had better at once be set right to stop the tongues of the thousands that are making more out of a few facts.

THE STORY OF A FALLEN WOMAN AS GIVEN BY HERSELF.

From the New York World, 23d.]

Fanny Wright, the woman who killed officer McCluskey, last Saturday night, has been removed to the Tombs, and now occupies a cell in the upper tier of the female prison. The clothing stained with the blood of her victim, which she has worn since her arrest, was yesterday changed. In reply to interrogations she made the following statement respecting her life:

About ten years ago I was living happily with my parents at Poughkeepsie, in this State. Nothing that I could wish for was withheld. I was trained in the Roman Catholic faith and attended to my religious duties with carefulness and pleasure until I was corrupted by a young girl of the same age, who was my schoolfellow. She had been reading novels to such an extent that her head became upset, and nothing would do her but to travel out and see the world. The consequence was that she confided to me her intention of leaving home, and we started together one beautiful night for the city of New York. (Here the poor woman gave way to tears again, and sobbed hysterically.) On our arrival in this city we took up our quarters with Mrs Adams, at No. 87 Leonard street, and this is the place where I lost my virtue and commenced to lead a life of bitter, bitter shame. My family succeeded ultimately in finding out my whereabouts, and took me home, but I could not listen to the voice of reason. I felt that I had selected my mode of life, and was determined at all hazards to follow it out. I escaped a second time and went back to Mrs. Adams', where I was confined of a sweet little girl shortly afterwards. I used to keep myself very clean, and dressed with great care and tastefulness. From Mrs. Adams' I removed to Mrs. Willoughby's, at No. 101 Mercer street, and lived there until the death of my little girl, three years ago; that had an awful effect upon me, and I could not help taking to drink to drown my sorrow. From this period I date the commencement of my real hardships. My father emigrated to California, and I had no one left but a young brother; he tried to reform me and also his poor wife. God bless her; she used to cry herself sick at my disgrace. Previous to this the young girl who accompanied me from home in the first instance fell out lucky and got married. Drinking was the only pleasure of my life, and it was not long until it began to have its results; I was arrested and committed to the Island for six months; I got down before my time was up and again took to liquor and street walking; I used to walk all the time between Greene, Wooster and Mercer streets, in the Eighth ward. I was soon arrested a second time, and sent up again for six months. During the last three years of my life, I have been sent on the Island six times altogether for drunken and disorderly conduct. On the night the officer was killed (here she gave way again to tears, and rocked herself around on the bed in a fearful manner), I was walking through the street going home with a message, and picking the kernels out of a hickory nut with a small knife, when the officer came up to me; I was almost drunk at the time, and much excited; I did not know what I was doing, when on the impulse of the moment I struck him with the knife. I never had any enmity against the man, in fact never saw him before until that time. It is not true I had only just come down from the Island. I was down from there at least six weeks. I don't feel myself guilty of his murder, when I never intended to do it, and I know God will forgive me.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Hon. A. W. Randall, Assistant Postmaster General, to a friend in Wisconsin:

You ask me what you ought to do about supporting the Republican State ticket. I hesitate to give advice about your own action; but I have no hesitation in telling you what I would do if there to vote this fall. I would never vote for any man on any ticket, State or local, who indorses the resolution of the Republican State Convention, favoring the impeachment of the President. There is neither reason nor excuse for this war upon President Johnson. All investigations and charges have failed to discover any "high crimes or misdemeanors" committed by him. There is no case to be found where he has violated the Constitution. He has endeavored to bring about, upon just terms, a complete restoration of the Union. He has followed the policy of Mr. Lincoln, which all Republicans once approved. He has had no other policy. He never has made a speech or said a word, or done an act favoring disloyal representation in Congress. If his policy, which is the same that Mr. Lincoln's was, had been carried out, to-day there would have been perfect peace; the Union would have been fully restored, and representatives, loyal all through the war, from the Southern States, would be filling the vacant seats in the House of Representatives.

BARON HOLSTEIN, attache of the Prussian Legation, has been recalled, at the request of the Hon. Charles Sumner, the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the Senate. The New York World says that the Baron and Madam Sumner have both left for Europe. A Boston paper says a hostile correspondence took place between the Senator and the Baron. The Baron was plucky. The Senator maintained the reputation he acquired in the fight with Brooks.

THERE appears to be at least one place in the South where the negroes do not believe in the Loyal League. The Natchez Courier says an attempt to get up a League at Columbus, Miss., proved an entire failure, the respectable portion of the negroes refusing to have anything to do with the concern.

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

NEW YORK, October 28.—Advices from Venezuela report a new revolution in Balinia and Uraguay, but the leaders have been captured. They planned the assassination of Gov. Falcon.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 28.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held here Saturday night. Speeches were made opposing the Congressional reconstruction plan, and resolutions were adopted declaring devotion to the Constitution and civil liberty.

NEW YORK, October 28.—The Herald's Richmond special says: From the reports of the registering officers received at military headquarters up to this time, thirty-three Conservatives and fifty-three Radicals have been elected to the Convention; of the latter, twenty-five are negroes. There are nineteen districts yet to hear from. It is thought that Underwood will be President of the Convention. John L. Marcier, Jr., the ablest man returned to the Convention, will not be permitted to take his seat because he held the office of Mayor of Fredericksburg before the war. The Convention meets early in December.

A handbill, offering $25,000 reward for the assassination of Hunnicutt, Underwood & Co.—gotten up, it is supposed, by the Radicals—was found on the streets this morning. This, it would seem, is evidently intended as an offset to the letters of the negro vigilance committee ordering certain citizens to leave the city.

WASHINGTON, October 28.—The annual report of Secretary McCulloch, for the fiscal year ending June 20th, is almost finished, and will, it is said, be sent to the President on the 1st of November. It was stated to-day that as soon as the annual report of the Secretary is in the hands of the President, the strong forces arrayed in opposition to Mr. McCulloch have determined to make a pull all together in the work of procuring a change in that department.

COMMISSION MERCHANT,

MEMPHIS, TENN.

LIBERAL ADVANCES—Supplies at Wholesale Prices. Commission for selling Cotton, One Dollar per Bale.

To the Cotton Planters of West Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas:

The undersigned respectfully tenders his services as agent or the sale of your cotton in this city, and for the purchase of your supplies. The unfortunate terminations of the late war, which so materially affected the best interests of the South, has also had its effect upon the Commission House of this city, as transacted between planter and merchant. You doubtless well remember with what pertinacity (previous to the war), amounting to some instances to coaxing, cotton was solicited for your business at the rate of fifty cents per bale commission, for drayage, and stored for twelve months without charge. Then (as will be again) the producer was the ruling element, and high rates, often times unreasonable, were the result of planters' patronage. No people or occupation have been more seriously prostrated than planters and producers, and none so much deserve to be fostered and aided in their unfortunate changed condition. How first aid so much needed has been united out you I opine too well know. Onerous governmental taxes in general, and, as a result, of your leading production, Cotton, large profits you have had to pay upon supplies unfingered, commission on sales ranging from $3.50 to $5 per bale, monthly storage at exorbitant prices, and other expenses, as per reference to your past business, as a sum total will leave you but little if anything upon which to rebuild your shattered fortunes, or to compete with the lower order of affairs—free labor. When I withdrew from the Cotton and Commission Business in 1860, private reasons then for me to believe that I would never reengage in it again. The solicitations of many friends that were former patron, and a desire to promote the interest of the planting community, so far as my feeble efforts can do so, and the apparent want of gratitude exhibited to a community that in times past tended so materially to the prosperity of Memphis and its mercantile community, has determined me again to offer my services in the capacity as stated. The reduced stocks of cotton in the United States and short supplies in the hands of New England manufacturers has caused some advance in prices from the late depression, hence early sales may be prudent and remunerative; such was the case the past two seasons, and many planters have had cause to regret the acting upon the too common practice of holding and drawing upon their cottons. I would advise no planter to send forward his cotton unless he wished it sold upon the first active market. It can be held at home much cheaper than in Memphis. My charges for selling cotton will be One Dollar per bale. Insurance effected in all cases if not instructed to the contrary. Shall buy your supplies from wholesale houses, giving you the benefit of same. In short, by strict attention to all the departments of our business, I hope to merit a large share of patronage.

Very respectfully,

R. A. MOON.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED

To solicit orders for a new

Illustrated Bible Dictionary,

(COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME.)

Edited by Dr. WM. SMITH, Classical Examiner of the University of London.

THE Dictionary embodies the results of the most recent study, research and investigation, of about sixty-five of the most eminent and advanced Biblical scholars now living. Clergymen of various denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every Bible reader in the land.

In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous objections which are usually encountered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this. But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the agent, making his labor agreeable, useful and lucrative.

Ladies, Clergymen, School Teachers, Farmers, Students and all others who possess energy are wanted to assist in canvassing every town and county in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered.

Ready Made Clothing,

Gents' Furnishing Goods, Etc.

EXPLANATION:

ON the first day of April last, we sold to H. A. Montgomery most of our stock of goods, and by this sale disposed of all our high priced goods; but not for a moment have we ever given up business. We have always held possession and occupied our present store, 294 Main street, in Clark's Marble Block. Mr. Montgomery sold the stock purchased of us to Col. Sam. D. Walker, who transferred the same to Frank P. Armstrong, as trustee, and by an arrangement made with Mr. Montgomery, we permitted the goods to be sold in our store for sixty days or more. We have never made an assignment, nor do we expect to do so. We want to be placed right on the record, and want our friends to understand our position. We are going to continue business, and expect to always keep a superior stock, and at fair prices. Thus we were forced to sell our large stock of high-priced goods, in order to meet them with an entirely new, cheap and elegant stock, which we are now receiving daily.

SECOND DRAWING

—OF THE—

Southern Asylum

LAND COMPANY,

TO TAKE PLACE AT

HERNANDO, MISS.,

AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 6th inst., was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,000 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the first Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and justness unsurpassed by any drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF THE APPEAL.

A GOVERNMENT of white men for white men; and no political miscegenation.

LOYALTY to the Union of the STATES: FIDELITY to the Constitution in its true extent and meaning: Obedience to and maintenance of all law, State and National, constitutionally enacted.

RESISTANCE to Tyranny, Usurpation and Oppression, of one man or many; and to all encroachment upon the rights of freemen or of States, or upon the just and Constitutional prerogatives of any Department of the State or National Governments.

NO ESTABLISHMENTS of Military despotisms, no enthroning of martial law, no suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, no slaying of citizens by Military Commission, no interference with the Courts, no lettres de cachet, in time of peace.

STRICT SUBORDINATION of the Military to the Civil Power.

NO STANDING ARMIES of States in time of peace.

RESTORATION of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been dissezed: no prosecutions or disqualifications for political opinions; for the PAST, oblivion of offences; for the PRESENT and FUTURE, UNION, PEACE, LAW and ORDER.

PERPETUAL ASSURANCE to all freemen of the African race, of all the civil rights of freemen.

NO REPUDIATION, by State or Nation, of any honest and lawful debt.

NO REVIVAL of old party differences; but a Union of all Conservative men, of all former parties, who revere the Constitution, to restore the old land-marks of the Government.

NO LEGISLATION to plunder one portion of the country for the profit of another portion.

WHATEVER IS JUST; whatever is RIGHT; whatever is of GOOD REPUTE, and worthy of the descendants of English freemen.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

No notice can be taken of anonymous Communications. Whatever is intended for insertion in the APPEAL, must be authenticated by the name and address of the writer, as a guarantee of his good faith and responsibility.

LIENS OR PRIVILEGES.

There is perhaps no branch of the law of our States, in which so large a number of the people at large have an interest; and there is certainly none in which our legislation and jurisprudence are so imperfect, and productive of so much injustice for want of harmony of principles and efficiency, as that of liens.

The liens known to the law are manifold. Among those that are of most general interest are those of judgments and executions, on lands and chattels; of the vendor of land for the price; of those who furnish materials for buildings, and the contractors and workmen; of farm-laborers upon the crops; of the hands employed on boats and vessels, and those who repair them or furnish them supplies; and of factors, upon cotton and other products, for advances upon them.

In the law of lien, in our Common Law States, there is no uniformity or consistency whatever. It is but a confused mass, not reduced to any system, because not proceeding from any fixed and general principles. To reform it, it would be necessary, as with the law of limitation or prescription, to go back to the beginning, to begin at the bottom, and to establish certain first principles from which all the law on the subject should naturally and justly flow.

What we call a lien, (not including a pledge or mortgage,) is termed in the Civil or Roman law a privilege; and this is defined by that law to be "a right which the quality of the credit (what we call the debt) gives to a creditor, to be preferred to other and even hypothecary creditors;"—the word hypothecary meaning, in our phraseology, a debt secured by pledge or mortgage.

This definition, literally taken from the Roman laws, marks in a positive manner, PERSIL says, the veritable characteristics of a privilege. It is not, as its name might at first lead us to suppose, a personal favour accorded by the law to the creditor, but a right, which a rigorous justice necessitates, and which rests on the quality of the debt alone: and this designates the differentelements of which the privilege is composed. And DOMAT says, that if the debt were not itself privileged, it could not be made so by an agreement between the parties. It is established without any contractor consent to that effect on their part.

It is of the very nature of a privilege to concur only with other privileges, to exclude hypothecations, and to have its rank determined, not by its date, like hypothecations, but by the quality of the debt to which it is attached. Thus if one has a hypothecation on a house, and architects afterwards repair it, or afterwards perfect their lien in the manner prescribed by law, their claims will be preferred, though the hypothecation is anterior in date, and the creditor has nothing to complain or, because his security is augmented by the repairs, to an amount equal to that for which the architects are preferred to him.

So, among privileged creditors, the preference is regulated, not by the dates, but by the different qualities of the privileges. Privilegia non tempore æstimantur, sed ex causa, et si quidem tituli fuerunt, concurrunt, licet diversitates temporis in his fuerint. If the privileged creditors are of the same rank, neither has the preference over the other. They are paid concurrently, though their privileges are of different dates. Those who are creditors for the expenses of the last sickness of a party are paid concurrently, although the debts due them were contracted at different times.

The owner of a farm, who leases it, preserves a privilege on all the crops and products of it, because, DOMAT says, they are deemed to be his own, until the rent is paid.

DELVINCOURT states this principle: that if a person who has rented a farm has to take the grain raised on it to a granary elsewhere, because on it there is no granary, the proprietor of the granary has the first privilege, quia saltem fecit pignoris causam, because it's being stored there was to preserve it as security for both. Upon the same principle, in the Maritime law, the later liens have preference over the older ones, and the lien of the seamen for wages prevails over a prior bottomry bond or hypothecation, for the same reason that makes a later bond for bottomry prevail over an earlier; for the later saved the ship, and the services of the seamen saved it for all who claim under bonds or liens. And this lien does not depend on possession, but is the privilege of the civil law.

A very just maxim of the civil law is, nonnulli sunt fructus nisi impensis deductis: there are no fruits until expenses are deducted. From this simple and just principle, not only the farm-hands or plantation labourers, but merchants who make advances or furnish supplies of any sort, to carry on a plantation and make a crop, should have a privilege upon it; and as the labour of the hands makes and saves the crop as well for the benefit of the merchant who has made advances as of the owner, their claims are to be preferred, though the merchant's claim is the older one.

Upon the same principle, those who make the last repairs on a house ought to be preferred, not only to mortgage-creditors, but to the earlier claims of materialmen and builders. For they preserve the property for those having prior liens, and add to their security just what their labour is worth, or the value of the materials they furnish. If paid out of the property, they but take so much of the price as they added to it.

Accordingly, such was the civil law, and such is the French law. PERSIL says: "what rank should architects and other contractors occupy? Will they be postponed to the vendor, to those who have furnished moneys for the purchase of the land, to a co-heir eviate, etc." Formerly those who repaired or improved the property were always preferred: The Pandects [Book XX, Title iv (Qui pot. in pign.), Laws 5 and 6] thus lay down the general principle, which is, in reason, and was in that law, of general application: Interdum posterior potior est priori; utputa, si in rem ita am conservandam impensum est quod sefuens creditit: veluti si navis fuit obligata, et ad armandam eam rem, vel reficiendam ego credidero. Hujus enim pecunia salvam fetit totius pignoris causam.

Then it is added that, upon this principle, the creditor is to be preferred who has lent money for supplying food to the pilots, without whom the vessel could not have arrived safely in port; or a person who has paid the rent of a warehouse in which goods are placed for safekeeping.

As to architects, etc. PERSIL says that the Gloss on Law 19, ff, de Privil. preferred them to all other creditors. The law itself is a quotation from MARCIAN, who says that any creditor for money to build, repair, arm or furnish a vessel, proceeding in rem against it, has the next privilege after the Treasury; and the principle is the same in the case of a house.

It was always so held in France, before the Code, by different judgments reported by MORNAC and TOURNET: and the legislation of the Republic, as well as the Code, adopted this law. In fact, says PERSIL, architects have their privilege only in so far as res pretiosior facta est, and as the property is made more valuable, the preference given them cannot prejudice the other creditors, because, where the value of the ameliorations has been deducted, their security remains just what it was before they were made.

By the Roman law, one who lent money, to be used in building a house, had a tacit lien on it when built: and a landlord who leased a house had a lien for the rent on furniture placed in it by the lessee. At first this was so only in old and new Rome, their suburbs and adjoining territory; but Justinian extended it to the Provinces.

We remember that it was a question in a suit in which we were some years since employed in Louisiana, whether a firm in another State had a tacit privilege, as against an attaching creditor, upon an engine sold by it to a sugar-planter on credit, and put up in his mill, whereby it had become an immovesble (or what we call a fixture). The decisions in France are against the privilege; those in Belgium sustain it.

A singular and striking instance of the uncertainty of our law, and its little regard to principles in regard to liens, is found in the fact that the courts in different States disagree upon the question whether, when a vendor of land has a tacit lien upon it for the purchase money, for which he holds the purchaser's note, and he assigns that note to another for value, the assignee of the note is also entitled to and can enforce the lien; in other words, whether endorsing the note assigns the lien. The Supreme Court of Arkansas has decided that it does not, not upon any principle, but by stating the decisions in other States, and adopting the doctrine which, it thought, had the weight of authority on its side.

Now the Roman law held that when a creditor assigned his credit, he transferred the debt with all its prerogatives, and caused his assignee to succeed him in omnia jura. The Code Napoleon, (Art. 1692) provides that the sale or assignment of a credit comprises the accessories of the credit, such as securities, guarantees, privileges and hypothecations. And, (Art. 2112), that assignees of privileged debts exercise all the rights of their assignors, in their stead and place. Wherefore PERSIL says that the assignee of the vender would not succeed to all the vendor's rights, if he did not obtain that of prevailing over all the other creditors and the lessees of the land.

By the assignment of the debt or note, the assignee, he says, succeeds to the creditor; he not only has all his right, but is himself nothing else than the creditor, has the same titles, and is the vendor as his assignor was. "It is the same debt," POTHIER says, in his Treatise on the Contract of Sale, "which passes from the assignee, who is, properly speaking, only the procurator in rem suam of the creditor who cedes the debt to him." A creditor, says PERSIL, cedes and transfers his rights to another. This transfer is absolute, it contains every thing that the claim is and imports in the hands of the first holder. All hypothecations and all other guaranties pass to the assignee: if the assignor were a vendor, his right of action resolutory (to cancel the sale) the pact of re-purchase, the action in rescission for cause of inadequate price or failure of payment, all belong to the assignee and may be exercised by him.

The subject is much too large to be treated of with any fullness in a newspaper article, nor did we design to do more than to offer a few suggestions to those whose business it is to amend the law; and we have had particularly in view the liens of mechanics, material-men, farm and plantation labourers and merchants.

A great and fatal insufficiency and defect in our law is in the mode of procedure in suits to enforce liens, especially when there are concurrent or conflicting liens, arising from different causes, and of different ranks, upon the same property. Our legislators should adopt as to these the Admiralty practice, making the suit a proceeding strictly in rem, (against the thing itself), and not in personam, whether it be a moveable or immoveable; in which suit all parties claiming liens or privileges, for any cause whatever, should be called to intervene, and their respective claims being marshalled, the property should be sold by decree, for the satisfaction of the claims in the decided order of preference, or pro rata, as the case might be. There should be the same proceeding for liens of all kinds: and whenever property is attached for a debt, that case also should proceed in the same manner, and all persons claiming liens be called to come in and have their claims adjudicated.

No Common Law proceeding can do justice in such cases. In the Admiralty, which is but the Civil law procedure, justice is done to all, and that speedily. The process should be as in the Admiralty, and, in the case of moveable property, seizure upon the process allowed on the same terms. We do not undertake to give the details of the procedure. That any lawyer familiar with the practice can do; but a general statute in regard to liens, covering the whole subject and digesting it upon principles common to those of every kind, would need great consideration and a thorough acquaintance with the whole subject, which few men have, and which we acquite aware we have not.

A MILITARY organization of seven or eight hundred negroes has been effected in the western part of Chester district, S. C. The authorities of Yorkville, the nearest post, refuse to interfere.

THE Shelbyville Rescue hoists the name of Andrew Johnson at the head of its columns for President, and Horatio Seymour, of New York, for Vice-President, in 1868.

A GENTLEMAN living near the railroad between Jackson and Vicksburg found three of his finest mules, on the morning of the 6th inst., shot dead in his pasture. Such wanton outrages are of frequent occurrence in that region.

BASE ball has at last taken a sensible turn. The base ballists of Lafayette, Indiana, challenged the members of the Young Men's Christian Association to saw nine cords of wood for the Ladies' Benevolent Society of that city, and the President of the Young Men's Christian Association, Mr. PERRIN, accepts the challenge, and as soon as the preliminaries can be settled the work will commence.

SHERMAN AND GRANT ON SUSPENSION—SEC. McCULLOCH.

The Boston Post's Washington correspondent says:

While those who profess to act "outside of the Constitution" are digesting President Johnson's declaration that he will resist any attempt to suspend or degrade him before trial and conviction, I will add, upon reliable authority, the declaration of Gen. Sherman that such an attempt would be clearly revolutionary, and should be resisted by the President with all the means within his control. This declaration, made to those who had a right to know his views, may have suggested the propriety of his return here to assume the command of the Department of Washington, which includes Maryland and Delaware. Such, also, was the substance of an opinion expressed by Gen. Grant, when approached on the subject during the last session of Congress by the Chairman of the House Military Committee. Mr. Schenck declared to his friends that before taking any extreme action in the premises the opinion of Gen. Grant should be obtained, and he volunteered to procure it. When the subject was mentioned, Gen. Grant promptly responded, in substance, that any attempt to suspend the President before trial and conviction would be a violation of the Constitution. The reply of the Commanding General arrested any further proceedings at the time. It may be well in this connection to repeat that President Johnson will hold ready obedience should the House of Representatives impeach and the Senate convict him as required by the forms of the Constitution.

The fact that a Radical Congressman went to the General in Chief to ask his opinion of the President, is significant of the designs of the Radical party. They have used every kind of hocus pocus process to control the military power of the country in their revolutionary designs. Withoutit they know they must fail in all their atrocious policy. If Gen. GRANT would declare his disapprobation of their schemes in distinct and positive terms, there would be no Radical party. We know this is a humiliating condition of affairs. But so it is. It only imposes the higher responsibility upon this one man, not to make his power subservient to his ambition. To be equivocal or even reticent, under such circumstances, can not be reconciled with his duty to the country.

THE TRUE SYSTEM OF ADVERTISING.

One of our exchanges discusses a question of interest to business men, as to the method of advertising.

The merits of circulars, bills, etc., are conceded, but it is held that the "handbill," to be conveyed about by men, or be sent into the country, is not the best vehicle for advertising for merchants. Let them use the newspapers.

The newspaper is circulated without any expense to the advertiser, which is by no means an unimportant item, as one will testify who has any experience in distributing advertisements.

Not only is the advertisement circulated by the newspaper free of all expense, but it is done more speedily and thoroughly than it can be done by the advertiser.

The newspaper is already an established system; a thousand doors are open to welcome it; a thousand messengers are daily and weekly seeking the post-office to receive it; a thousand families look for its coming, and a thousand read it when it does come.

Again, those who read the newspapers are the very persons the advertiser wishes to reach; they are the intelligent and well to do, therefore the most likely to buy what is worth buying.

Manifesto from Sir. Chase.

Chase thinks the Ohio election has not killed him. So does Greeley. Chase has issued his manifesto, in which he takes back almost everything, and Greeley indorses it. The public is informed that he is a Conservative, that he never favored impeachment, never wanted confiscation, and never urged negro suffrage in Ohio. In short, that the result in Ohio does not affect him at all. It is rather ludicrous to see Chase in such haste to repudiate Radicalism and try to take the wind out of Grant's sails; but it is not the only funny thing that will be seen before the quarrel for the nomination is over.—Boston Post.

GEN. MCCLELLAN has taken passages for himself and family, and proposes to sail from Liverpool for this country in the steamship Persia on the 19th of November. He may be expected, therefore, to arrive here about the 27th of that month.

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

NEW ORLEANS, October 28.—The Picayune has the following late advices confirming the destructive effects of the late storm on the Rio Grande. A correspondent of the 12th inst. says: The hurricane was the most terrible in the memory of man on this frontier; perpetual bombardment for a year could hardly have done as much damage. There were twenty-six persons killed at Matamoras, ten killed and twenty-one wounded at Brownsville. At Brazos, so far as known, twelve persons perished. The schooners Ella and Kadosh were blown high ashore. Only two houses are left at Clarksville. None at Bagdad. Loss of life at the latter place not known; ninety of the inhabitants escaped by going on board a vessel, which outlived the storm. The rest must have perished. Negro soldiers and their officers are said to have acted infamously at Brazos, not only refusing all assistance to struggling and suffering families, but retired to a sheltered part of the island, returning next day to rob wrecked goods, under the pretence of warehouses and dwellings. One of them shot and killed a citizen who detected him robbing. Their officers said they could do nothing to check this brigandism. From a long list of the damages at Brownsville, we extract the following: King & Kennedy's warehouse roof was blown off and building badly damaged. The County Courthouse and jail were completely destroyed and the prisoners were all at large. The entire square between Fort Brown, Fourteenth levee and Elizabeth street was destroyed, including the Ranchero's office and the Masonic hall. The office of the Courier had the roof torn off; the residence of J. Stark, correspondent of the New York Herald, was completely destroyed; Postoffice building had roof torn off; hotel and elegant billiard saloon almost in ruins; iron building of Wilkins, Hays & Co. totally destroyed; Episcopal church destroyed. Between Tenth and First streets seven brick and and four frame houses were either destroyed or rendered untenable.

In Matamoras 1500 houses and huts were blown down. The greatest distress and want prevails at all points, and appeals are being made for relief. Out of seven steamers only two can be repaired.

Ten deaths from yellow fever yesterday, and sixteen to-day. Absentees are cautioned to remain away for a short time yet.

WASHINGTON, October 28.—Intelligence received by the Union Radical Congressional Committee, from the Southern States, which have not yet held elections, indicates that in all of them the Conventionists will be successful. Pope allows three days for election in Georgia and Florida, because the voting is to be done at county seats. This arrangement was made for the better protection of colored men.

Internal Revenue receipts to-day $71,469,199. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that selling or offering to sell distilled spirits, at less than two dollars per gallon, does not raise any presumption in law that the tax has not been paid, because the spirits may be unrectified and diluted. It is not intended by the recent cotton speculations to require permits and bills of lading for the removal of cotton from point to point within the district where the same is produced; and in case of removal from such district, a collector should not expect a fee of the tax payer for marking his cotton.

An abstract from the quarterly report of the National banks shows resources amounting to one thousand four hundred and ninety-five millions, including ten millions in specie and nearly fifty-seven millions in compound interest notes; capital stock of four hundred and nineteen and a quarter millions; surplus fund of sixty-six and two-thirds millions, and an undivided profit of thirty-three and a half millions.

ST. LOUIS, October 28.—Weather cool and pleasant.

CINCINNATI, October 28.—It has been raining since 1 p.m., and the barometer falling.

NEW YORK, October 28.—The Tribune's special says Turkey has refused decidedly the Russian demand to cede Candia to Greece. Russia will not, however, force Turkey to war until Europe is busy with its own affairs, but the way is now prepared, and if war comes this rejected advice will be presented as its justification.

The quarterly statement of the national banks of the city shows a surplus of thirteen and a half million dollars over the reserve required by law.

LOUISVILLE, October 28.—The river is rising, with twenty-nine inches in the canal.

TELEGRAPHIC MARKETS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 28.—Sales of cotton to-day 2800 bales; market active and stiffer; low middling 18c; receipts 2849 bales. Sugar in fair demand; 10 hhds of Louisiana, first of the season, arrived this morning, and sold at 17c; Cuba brown, 12¼@13c. MARRIED.

CLARK—DUNNING.—On the 9th inst., at Mankato, Minn., M. WARE CLARK, formerly of Memphis, to Miss KATE DUNNING, of Mankato.

The many friends of Mr. Clark, the artist, who spent several years in our midst, will join us in offering him our congratulations—congratulations which it becomes necessary in us to separate from our selfish nature, as in addition to the beautiful and romantic scenery of Minnesota which has attracted him from our city, another charm has thrown its influence over him, which alone is necessary in Minnesota to fill the measure of an artist's bliss.

May the beautiful paradise which he could so fully represent on canvass, be realized in his wedded state.

INGRAM—STAINBACK.—Married on Thursday, October 24, 1867, by Rev. T. D. Witherspoon, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. A. D. Stainback, Mr. WILLIAM M. INGRAM to Miss ALICE M. STAINBACK, of Fayette county, Tenn.

DIED.

ROSSEL—In this city, on the 15th of October, of yellow fever, MARION JASPER, son of Marion J. and Mary A. Rossel, aged four years, eight months and eight days.

He was taken sick on the 11th. On the evening of the 14th, he sang in the sweetest tones,

"I want to be an angel."

At early dawn the next morning his childish wish was realized, and his spirit returned to God who gave it. He was all innocence. His eyes reflected his soul, and every movement and tone was that of grace and sweet simplicity. Weep not, fond parents, for this dear little angel. He is only gone before, and leaves one the less on earth, and adds a strong link to bind you to heaven.

"Mourn not, dear friends, in anguish wild,
That God hath claimed by cherub child;
Mourn not for him who, early freed,
Hath found in heaven eternal rest."

CASTANEDO—MRS. LEONORA CASTANEDO, aged 37 years, Monday morning, 28th inst.

She lived a type of womanly virtue and excellence; and as the harvest of life, with all its grandeur and wealth, appeared before her, death, as a nipping frost, came upon her, and robbed her of its beauties. The recollections of her virtues will never be forgotten. It is imperishable. Those who loved and honored her will ever remember her as a woman endowed by nature with all the accomplishments of life, and possessed of those qualities which none but the most exalted are gifted with. One Thing is Certain,

THAT however widely great men may differ, and however large a majority of Doctors, Lawyers and Divines throughout the South who do agree that Dr. Williams' Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha is the only certain cure for Pneumonia, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Strength, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Pleurisy, Difficult Breathing, and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs, and is a certain and sure cure for Consumption in its early stages. That it cures all of the above-named diseases, is a fact beyond controversy, as there are thousands of living witnesses to-day ready to testify, who have been cured by this great discovery. Hear what some of our most eminent physicians of the South say: The distinguished Dr. Boon, of Macon, Ga., says that "in every case he has found this preparation a safe and prompt remedy for all pulmonary affections, and takes pleasure in recommending it as a reliable anodine, expectorant, etc."

Dr. Tennant, of Marietta, Ga., a physician of deservedly high reputation as an able and experienced practitioner of medicine, endorses and expresses the same opinion, and recommends it extensively in his practice.

Dr. F. M. Cohen, of Charleston, S. C., a gentleman of well known reputation, and a wholesale dealer and importer of drugs and medicines, recommends it in the highest terms, and as it exclusive of all other rem dies in his family with the most satisfactory results.

And we might add even thousands of certificates of like recommendations of this medicine, all of which would only consume time in reading for no purpose, as its merit needs no well known throughout the South, where it has been in use for the last twenty two years, to need any further recommendation than this—that all who have used it once are satisfied to be without it; and so great has been the demand, that it has been only recently that we have been able to make such arrangements for its manufacture as will enable us to supply the constant demands which we are daily in receipt of from leading druggists and other dealers throughout the South.

Having established our Laboratory at the well known Wholesale drug house of J. B. Wasson & Co., of this city, we are now prepared to fill all orders without delay, which shall be promptly met, (to the trade only), and must be addressed to J. B. WASSON & CO.,

WANTS.

WANTED—THE PATENT

AURORA OIL.

We want men everywhere to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is SO MUCH explosive than a tallow candle. Any lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible, one man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

THE eminent and distinguished Doctor, Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and most learned and distinguished men of this age, in his treatise on Consumption, says: That Pulmonary Consumption can be cured, admits no longer of a doubt, and all eminent writers on pathological anatomy, at this present time agree that consumption can be cured, if proper remedies are used in time; and testimony the most convincing, clearly proves that this disease must not be trifled with by using all kinds of patent medicines and quack nostrums, but the only safe and certain cure now in use throughout the South is known as "Dr. Williams' Pulmonic Balsam or Wild Cherry and Wood Naphta," which has stood the test of more than twenty years' trial, during which time it has given the most convincing proof of its great efficacy in having arrested this most subtle and treacherous disease with thousands who are living witnesses to-day to testify to the truth of what we here state. And to the incredulous who are suffering with any pulmonary disease, no matter of how long standing, we ask you to try this medicine once, and be convinced or your money back.
Sold by all respectable Druggists throughout the South. Depots can be supplied at J. B. WASSON & CO'S Wholesale Drug House, Memphis, Tenn., to whom all orders must be addressed.

I would like to be informed by any physician or other reliable authority whether there have been any cases of the present fever among those who had the disease in 1855, and if so, whether any have died? I have as yet found none such in my own practice, and it may be useful and interesting point in the history of the present epidemic.

DEPOSIT IN MEMPHIS.—By reference to our financial column this morning, it will be seen that the Collector of Internal Revenue at this point has been instructed to make his deposits with the First National bank, instead of sending them to Cincinnati. We are glad to make this announcement, as the Department could not have selected a more reliable and sound institution, besides thereby giving our business community the benefit of such a deposit, which at this time will enable the above institution to carry out the liberal policy which has always characterized it in its past career.

DEATH OF CAPT. OSCAR H. LIDE. The many friends of this old citizen and most estimable gentlemen, for many years engaged in business in Memphis, and maintaining the fairest name for integrity of purpose and action, will be grieved to hear of his decease, which occurred yesterday morning. Only a short time since, he buried his wife, to whom he was most tenderly attached, and now he is called away to join her in the spirit-land, leaving five orphans to mourn their irreparable loss. Capt. Lide was a native of Athens, East Tennessee, where his relatives chiefly reside. He was a gentleman of strong peculiarities, not assuming, however, to eccentricity. He was most earnest in his friendship, an unswerving advocate for what he thought right, and hostile with all his heart to what was mean or little. He was a thorough business man, and experienced in the cotton trade especially, in which his judgment was sound and worth having. A friend offers this humble tribute to his memory, and feels that not only the ties of friendship have been unduly snapped asunder, but the community has experienced a loss in the death of such a citizen as Oscar H. Lide.

FIVE CENTS.

We request that our patrons will not pay the newsboys more than five cents a copy for the APPEAL. It is sold over the counter at that price, and we allow the newsboys a sufficient margin to make a handsome profit by selling the papers at five cents per copy.

TO THE PATRONS OF THE APPEAL. Subscribers are requested to report any irregularities in the delivery of the APPEAL at the counting room. Carriers will be furnished weekly with certificates authorizing them to collect subscriptions.
ED. MANSFORD,
Supt. of Circulation.

MORTUARY REPORT.—Seven interments from yellow fever for twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock P. M.
W. E. ROGERS, M.D.,
Secretary Board of Health.
Memphis, October 28, 1867.

NEW ROUTE.—Parties living on the Hernando Plank road, and east of Elmwood cemetery, can be supplied with the DAILY APPEAL, by leaving their address at the counting-room, No. 13 Madison street.

BACK AGAIN.—John C. Creighton, Esq., one of our most popular Magistrates, who has been for some time in Minnesota, recruiting his health, returned last night. He is somewhat improved, and will be found, as usual, glad to see his friends at the old place.

RETIRED.—Mr. J. T. Pratt, who for some time past has been connected with the city press, but latterly associate editor of the Evening Ledger, retired from that journal yesterday. We wish our young friend all success in his future undertaking.

GRAND LARCENY.—The notorious Frank Scruggs, whose name is quite familiar at the various courts, was up before Mr. Justice Moore yesterday, on a charge of grand larceny. He was committed, in default of $2000 bail. His prospect for a trip to the State headquarters is very promising.

FRENCH JOHN.—We are requested by the proprietor of this well known eating house, to say that for the benefit of his numerous patrons the house will hereafter be kept open day and night, when not only the substantials will be furnished on the shortest notice at the most liberal prices, call on French John.

POSTPONEMENT.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the fall races will not take place until the second Monday in November, when one of the most spirited meetings ever held in the South will take place. Let all lovers of the turf take notice and govern themselves accordingly. It will surely be a glad time.

TIME FOR WINTER.—A convention of managers of the various railroad lines between the East, West and Southwest will be held at Cleveland, Ohio, to-day, for the purpose of arranging a schedule of running time for the winter. Gen. Boyd, General Ticket Agent of the Memphis and Louisville Railroad, will represent that line at the convention.

REMOVED.—It will afford the numerous friends (in this city), of Mr. James Bitson, to know that he has recovered entirely from his late severe attack of yellow fever in New Orleans, and may be found, as heretofore, at the office of J. C. Forbes & Co., in that city. While we commend his courage in facing the scourge, we congratulate him on passing safely through the fiery ordeal.

HORSE THIEVING IN THE SUBURBS. T. J. Smith, who does business at 842 Second street, but resides about two miles from town on the State Line road, received a visit from some horse thieves on Sunday night, who stole from his stable a very valuable roan horse and a sorrel mare mule. Information was given to the police, but, as yet, the thieves are at large, and no trace of the property has been found.

TAKING TO WASH.—A negro woman, who calls herself Miss Forrest, and hails from Missouri, was arrested by a policeman yesterday, charged with having in her possession a basket of wearing apparel, the property of a gentleman on Front street. She said she was only taking them to wash. The owner not having given them out, had her arrested, and furnished with quarters at the Adams street station.

A BENEFIT.—The proprietors of the correct rooms at No. 15 Monroe street, propose to give to the Howard Association the gross receipts of their establishment on Tuesday night. These gentlemen have ever been ready to donate to any good cause, and it is to be hoped their friends, as well as the lovers of charity, will assemble in full force at 15 Monroe street on Tuesday night, to give aid to the cause of charity

DARING ATTEMPT.—A most daring attempt at housebreaking was made on Sunday night at the place of Mr. E. H. Flynn, No. 49 Beal street. The proprietor going into the store about ten o'clock, discovered that the brick wall on the side and rear had been so loosened that a sufficient quantity of brick could be taken out to admit a burglar. He kept especial watch on the premises, but no attempt was made. What will the vagabonds do next?

CAUGHT AT IT.—Mr. Themie, on Monroe street, between Main and Front, received a second visit yesterday from the thieves. This time in the person of one Jim Cobb, who was found coming out of his place with a shot gun and ammunition. One of the parties in the house secured and turned him over to the police. He will come before Mr. Justice Hall this morning. This boy Cobb is an old jail bird, and well known at the prisons. How he manages to escape so often without punishment is somewhat of a mystery.

YELLOW FEVER IN 1855.—We give place to the following with pleasure:
MEMPHIS, October 28, 1867.

I would like to be informed by any physician or other reliable authority whether there have been any cases of the present fever among those who had the disease in 1855, and if so, whether any have died? I have as yet found none such in my own practice, and it may be a useful and interesting point in the history of the present epidemic.
W. T. IRWIN, M.D.,
President Board of Health.

DEPOSIT IN MEMPHIS.—By reference to our financial column this morning, it will be seen that the Collector of Internal Revenue at this point has been instructed to make his deposits with the First National bank, instead of sending them to Cincinnati. We are glad to make this announcement, as the Department could not have selected a more reliable and sound institution, besides thereby giving our business community the benefit of such a deposit, which at this time will enable the above institution to carry out the liberal policy which has always characterized it in its past career.

DEATH OF CAPT. OSCAR H. LIDE. The many friends of this old citizen and most estimable gentlemen, for many years engaged in business in Memphis, and maintaining the fairest name for integrity of purpose and action, will be grieved to hear of his decease, which occurred yesterday morning. Only a short time since, he buried his wife, to whom he was most tenderly attached, and now he is called away to join her in the spirit-land, leaving five orphans to mourn their irreparable loss. Capt. Lide was a native of Athens, East Tennessee, where his relatives chiefly reside. He was a gentleman of strong peculiarities, not assuming, however, to eccentricity. He was most earnest in his friendship, an unswerving advocate for what he thought right, and hostile with all his heart to what was mean or little. He was a thorough business man, and experienced in the cotton trade especially, in which his judgment was sound and worth having. A friend offers this humble tribute to his memory, and feels that not only the ties of friendship have been unduly snapped asunder, but the community has experienced a loss in the death of such a citizen as Oscar H. Lide.

SHOOTING SUNDAY NIGHT.

MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

The Assailant Arrested, &c., &c.

For sometime past, a grudge has existed between two men named James Johnson and Jerry Woods, who reside near the Fair grounds. As Officer W. L. Porter was passing the grounds, between eight and nine o'clock on Sunday night, he heard the report of a pistol. Going to the spot he found Johnson lying on the ground badly wounded. Just before nearing him, however, he heard some person say, "G—d—n you, I've got you now." On looking around, he found Woods with a pistol in his hand. Johnson had no weapons. Mr. Porter immediately acted in the premises, causing the wounded man to be conveyed to his home, and Woods to be brought to town and lodged in jail. He was to have been brought before Mr. Justice Miller yesterday afternoon for examination, but as the wounded man was still living at five o'clock, the investigation was postponed for the purpose of ascertaining whether the case would terminate fatally or not. Medical attendance was promptly called in, and everything is being done for his relief, but no hopes are entertained of his recovery—the shot having taken effect in the abdomen. Both parties are men of family; Woods being a grocery keeper, and Johnson a farmer, who lives near him. We have been unable to learn the origin of the difficulty. These bloody scenes, in which men allow their worse passions to rule their actions, are sincerely to be regretted. It is to be hoped they have had an end.

THE FIRE SUNDAY MORNING.—The losses by the disastrous fire on Sunday morning are about as follows: R. P. Walt & Co.—Building worth about $60,000—no insurance; on stock Messrs. Walt & Co. had $15,000 in the Underwriters of New York, represented by Littleton & Co. The DeSoto Company had $2,000 insurance on stock, and $1,000 with Walt & Co. Banfil & Co.—This firm are the heaviest losers; their total insurance is $48,200, divided as follows: Hartford, $10,000 on improvements on building; Underwriters, $5000; Mississippi Valley, $5000; Ætna, $5000 on stock, and $8000 on stock or fixtures, $33,000 in all. Mr. Fred. A. Myers had 170 barrels of whisky, valued at $16,000 stored at Banfil & Co.'s, on which there is, we learn, about $4000 insurance. Mr. J. J. Kellegg had 72 barrels of whisky stored there, valued between $5000 and $6000—no insurance. J. K. Moody & Co., stock not large; insured for $5000 in the Home Company, represented by Vredenburgh & Sylvester. Messrs. Pittman, Parker & Co. had a large quantity of bagging and rope stored there, which was insured for $10,000 in the DeSoto Company. H. B. Graham & Bro., of St. Louis, had $5200 insurance on hemp and bagging stored with Moody & Co. Messrs. S. R. Clarke & Co's. agency had $750 insurance in Ætna Company on corn stored with Walt & Co., by Guy, Alden & McRae—loss about $100. H. R Downs & Co., Bradley block—$8000 insurance, $5000 in Arctic, and $3000 in International—represented by Clarke & Co., on tobacco and whisky stored by Clark, Ely & Co.—no loss. Low & Co., Bradley block—$10 000 in Littleton's companies—no loss. The heaviest losses come on Littleton & Co.'s agency and the DeSoto Company. The total insurance of the former is $83,200, the proportion of which is a loss. The $12 000 in the DeSoto on Pittman, Parker & Co.'s bagging and rope, and the hardware mentioned above, is also nearly a total loss. H. J. Lewis, proprietor of a vegetable store in the rear of the block, lost about one hundred dollars worth of stock—no insurance. The total loss by the fire will not fall far short of $175,000, and may probably exceed that amount.

BAYOU GAYOSO.—In the message of Mayor Lofland, to which we have specially referred in our columns before, and which certainly brought to the notice of the Board of Aldermen a number of important duties claiming their consideration, he rather intimates that to the remissness that has kept this city out of water works and sewers, we are in the main indebted for the terrible disease which has been so fatal among our colored citizens. As a paper emanating from our city's chief functionary, what is therein contained is entitled to special notice. The message says: "I understand there is a scheme on foot by some interested parties to secure no charter for converting Bayou Gayoso into a sewer, with power to condemn a certain amount of the land on each side, and have it sold at a fixed price—the object being to reclaim the ground, and make the sewer a source of great profit by charging the property for the privilege of emptying or using it. I am not fully advised as to the exact object and purport of the scheme, but remember that such a project was prepared to be presented to the Legislature a year ago last winter. I trust you will remonstrate against the granting of any such privilege by our Legislature. The bayou, in my opinion, will certainly form the base line of sewerage for the eastern portion of the city, and will be required in perfecting the system of sewerage now being surveyed and planned under the direction of the Board of Water Works Commissioners—hence the great importance to the city of keeping the control of it. The surveys for water works and sewers will be completed in a few days. Plans and estimates are being made, and the progress of the work will be reported to you by the Commissioners at your next regular meeting. In regard to the early completion of water works, and a judicious system of sewers, paramount to every other consideration or the public welfare. To what extent our present calamities might have been avoided, if such were not the case, I am not able to say; but in my opinion is, that for the want of these great sanitary regulations, there has been lost to the business of our city, since the first of July, enough to have paid for a complete system of sewerage. Think of it, a city with a population of seventy thousand souls, and no water except what is in private cisterns, and no effectual means of carrying off the filth created by such a population. Is it remarkable, then, that in such a climate as this, we should be visited by disease and death? I believe that nine-tenths of the sickness prevailing here this season has been of local origin, which might have been avoided had we possessed the same sanitary appliances that old and favored towns of this country ought to be enjoyed by us. I hope, therefore, that this great work will be fostered and encouraged by you, and if the Commissioners deem further legislation necessary to enable them to accomplish the great purpose, you will secure it for them."

CAMPAIGNS OF LIEUT. GEN. FORREST AND OF FORREST'S CAVALRY.—Messrs. Bielock & Co., the publishers, announce the forthcoming of this work, an octavo volume of six hundred and twenty-five pages to be issued on the 25th of next month. It will be gotten up in superb style, with portraits, maps and diagrams. It has been long expected, and will, of course, be eagerly sought for. The following letter from Gen. Forrest accompanies the announcement:

MEMPHIS, TENN., October 5, 1867.

In the work now in course of preparation by Messrs. Bielock Co., will be found an authentic account of the campaigns and operations in which I took part during the war for the independence of the Confederate States. Believing it to be proper that there should be a timely and lasting record of the deeds and services of those whom I have been so fortunate as to command, I placed all the facts and papers in my possession, or available to me, in the hands of accomplished writers, who have done their part with precision and care. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday, at 3 p.m., the President, T. O. Nelson in the Chair, to take action in reference to a circular which was issued on Saturday, and reads as follows:

Notice.—We, the undersigned officers of Internal Revenue, in order to comply with the regulations governing the removal of cotton, are compelled to assess and collect the tax in the hands of the shippers. Therefore, on and after Monday, the 28th inst., the regulations will go into effect.
HALSEY F. COOPER,
Assessor.
ROLFE S. SAUNDERS,
Collector.
Memphis, October 26, 1867.

The President briefly stated the object of the meeting. Mr. Owens moved that a committee of five be appointed to take the matter into consideration and report theron; adopted. The Chair named the following: Messrs. Owen, Dorwin, West, Smith and Gates. A committee consisting of Messrs. Owen, Gates, Allen, Galbraith and N. P. Hill were appointed to confer with the Collector and Assessor, with a view of obviating the difficulty. The Board adjourned to meet at 3 p.m., this day.

OBITUARY.—One of our most popular physician, Dr. J. T. Sale, died on Saturday morning of a disease of the bowels. Dr. Sale was an indefatigable and successful practitioner of medicine, and was held in high esteem, as a gentleman and companion, by all who knew him. This "taking off" was fearfully sudden, and carries to a grief-stricken family and a large circle of friends that sorrow which no consolation or sympathy can reach save that which comes from Above. Dr. Sale removed to this city from Louisville, Kentucky.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.—On Sunday afternoon Mr. McFall, one of the keepers in the county jail, Adams street, discovered that eighteen negroes, confined in one of the cells, had concocted a scheme for their escape. They had raised a plank and excavated quite a good distance toward the front wall and would probably have succeeded for the watchfulness of Mr. McFall. They proposed to escape by the grating. The little game, however, was put a stop to, and ten of the inmates heavily ironed. The new jail is badly required to keep prisoners safe. It is only owning to the watchfulness of the jailor and his assistants, that many have not got away long since.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received New York Mercury, German Leslie, Southern Society, American Union, Italian Paper, Blackwood's Magazine for October, Army and Navy Journal, Police Gazette, Round Table, Scientific American, Day Book, Gleason's Companion, Scottish American, Rural New Yorker, Observer, Police News, Frank Leslie, Country Gentleman, and all the magazines for November, with Harper's Weekly, Irish Citizen, John Mitchell's New Paper; also, new sheet music, writing paper, envelopes, blank books of all kinds. Call at Emmons & Son's, and try them. They also have dailies from every where.

SECURE YOURSELVES.—In the midst of life we are in death. The every day experience of our lives but goes to prove the correctness of this saying. Knowing that life is of but short duration, at best, it is a duty that all owe to their families or surviving relatives, to provide for them in case of their demise. It costs but a small amount, and untold good is often bestowed by a policy of life. Our old friend, McClure, who has an office at 16 Jefferson street, represents one of the best companies in the Union, and will insure on the most advantageous terms. Drop in and see him.

GEORGIA STATE LOTTERY.—For the benefit of the Masonic Orphan's Home, combination class No. 109. The following were the drawn numbers, October 28, 1867:

THE COURTS.

LAW COURT—Judge Pierce presiding. The October term of this Court commenced yesterday, pursuant to adjournment. Agreeable to the wishes of the members of the Bar, Judge Pierce adjourned the October term of the Court over to Monday, November 11, 1867. All witnesses and jurors summoned to attend on yesterday were excused until Tuesday November 12, 1867. To-day the June term will open, pursuant to a former adjournment, but no business will be transacted, other than adjourning over to "Court in course," owing to the fact, that this term of Court has been left open, and further, that the minutes remain unsigned in consequence of the death of the late Judge Thos. G. Smith. Judge Pierce on yesterday, on motion, appointed the following named gentlemen as a committee to report to-day as to the proper manner of disposing of the unsigned minutes of Court, and the open June term: Judge A. Wright, Judge Heath, Chas. Kortrecht, Esq., Judge Thos. R. Smith, and Col. Heiskell.

CRIMINAL COURT—Judge Wm. Hunter presiding.—The October term of this Court met on yesterday pursuant to adjournment, and adjourned over to Monday, November 4, 1867. All witnesses and jurors summoned to appear on yesterday, will take notice of the further adjournment, and appear on said day, November 4, 1867.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—Judge Reeves presiding.—Owing to the non-arrival of His Honor, Judge Reeves, on yesterday, this Court was adjourned over to to-day at the usual hour by M. D. L. Stewart, Esq., Clerk of said Court. Witnesses and jurors summioned heretofore, to appear on yesterday, will attend to-day.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Judge Waldron presiding.—The following cases are set for trial to-day: 35 to 44, The State vs. Tom Nowles, misdemeanor; 82 to 91, same vs. Jim Nowles, misdemeanor; 111 to 125, same vs. Geo. Sinclair, misdemeanor; 207 to 221, same vs. Joseph Lipari and Rose Lovejoy, misdemeanor; 222 to 224, same vs. J. Brignadello, misdemeanor; 278 to 279, same vs. G. W. Van Voast, misdemeanor; 314 to 343, same vs. Roneau Brown, misdemeanor.

Time May Accomplish Acclimatation, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while Our Own Southern Bitters does it at once and with safety. The extensive use of this in every variety of cases has shown it to be a sure as well as safer remedy for the whole class of diseases caused by miasmatic infection than any other bitters ever discovered. Another important advantage to the public is, that it is cheap as well as good. Try them. Sold everywhere. Depot, 6 Howard's row, Memphis, Tenn.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, }
MEMPHIS, October 27, 1867. }

The influx of cotton and the desire of holders to realize has had a beneficial effect on our local finances. Within the last two days one bank alone has received, in the aggregate, shipments amounting to about $2,000,000 in currency, and if other institutions have done equally well, there is very just cause for an easier state of the money market.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 147¼. At noon it had declined to 147¼ and closed at 141⅝. Our gold market was very quiet and brokers were not able to make up shipments to-day. The amounts offered become smaller as currency becomes easier. 140@140⅝ were the buying rates.

Silver is even scarcer than gold. Brokers buy at 130@132. The latter figures could be realized on a round lot.

Exchange was not offered so freely to-day, owing to the trouble existing between the revenue officers and cotton buyers, but rates remain at ½ off buying and selling at par to ¼ premium.

City scrip is no better than at the close of last week. Brokers are well supplied and are not anxious to buy at 60c. which is the nominal buying rate. Selling at 62@65c.

County warrants are dull at 70c buying; selling at 75@80c.

Police scrip is bought at 70c and sold at 75@80c.

For some months back the Collector of Internal Revenue, in pursuance of orders from the Department, has been forwarding all monies collected in this district to Cincinnati for deposit. It was a foolish requirement, and calculated to injure our city to no small extent. By instructions received yesterday from the Secretary of the Treasury, the First National bank of this city has been designated as the depository in future of such monies as may be collected by the revenue officer of this district. We have never doubted that our National banks were equally as solvent as any in Cincinnati or elsewhere, and the removal of those deposits to that city was one of the fooli-h things done by the Department.

In the better days of the Republic, before Radical legislation and fastened its blasting policy upon the country, we used to boast of being the most lightly taxed people in the world. It was a common thing in those times to point to Great Britain as an illustration of the evil effects of onerous taxation. The contrast was one in which our politicians delighted, because it served to show how much superior we were as political economists and legislators to our British ancestors. How is it now after near seven years of Radical rule? The aggregate wealth of Great Britain within the British Isles is $35,000,000,000; that of the United States is now estimated at $14,000,000,000. The rate of taxation in Great Britain is ninety cents on the one hundred dollars; in the United States the rate of taxation by the Federal Government alone, without counting that by the States and local corporations, is three dollars and ninety-three cents on the one hundred dollars. Thus our rate of taxation by the Federal Government alone is more than four times as great as that of Great Britain. Nor is this all. We pay to the Federal Government alone upwards of two hundred millions of dollars more, in taxes, than the people of the British Isles pay. Thus American Radicalism is a far more expensive luxury than British monarchy and aristocracy.

S. H. TOBEY, President. ED. C. KIRK, Cashier.

The New York cotton market opened with a moderate demand and prices firm. Middling, 29½@29¾c and other grades unchanged, and closed inactive with prices drooping; ordinary, 18¾@19c; good ordinary, 21@21¼c; low middling, 24@25c; middling, 26c; good middling 28½@29c; Mobile 28½c; Orleans, 31c; sales, for the day, 1000 bales.

Our market opened quiet, with middling held at 26c, but buyers offering 17@25c. The market was dull during the day, with lighter sales than at any time since the new crop commenced to come in. This feeling was caused by the cancelling of orders or what amounted to the same thing, advices from the factors to be in no hurry to buy. Another cause for the light transactions during the day was the recent notice published from the telegraphic office, which was published on Sunday, and which does not seem to give satisfaction. This will no doubt be remedied to-morrow, however, through the committee appointed at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce this evening, proceedings of which will be found in our local columns. Our outside figure of the morning was not realized, but we could learn of. Such sales as were reported were made at 17¾@17¾c. The closing new York dispatch caused a decline of ⅛c and thenceforth sales were made as follows:

The market has run bare of corn, and the demand is some better than usual for the past few days. Parties who shipped to New Orleans during last week expect to make a nice thing of it, having bought at 85@90c. and in a few cases at $1, and selling at $1 00@1 05 below. There are very few lots on hand, and they are all small—not more than enough for the local trade. A lot of choice old whites would sell today at 110 in the country, retail, the way it is held at $1 15@1 20 for yellow and white. New ears is in demand at 75@80c., with light stock on hand. Meal is dull at $3 75 on levee and $4 from store. Bran very scarce and firm at $20@22 per ton. Oats are in light supply and held at 70@75c on levee and 80c in store. Mess pork is stiff; today and held at $25 from the levee and in store in large lots; in filling small orders, $25 50@ 26 50 are the rates; prime meats scarce at 22@ 23; rump, 20@21c. Clear sides, 19@20c; ribsides 18½c; breakfast bacon, 18½@19c; sugar cured hams, 20@22c. Cabbage, 90@30 per 100. Reg Lard, 15½@16c; tierce, 14½@15c. Apples firm and scarce at $4 50@5 50 per bbl. Butter is becoming more plentiful and prices are easier; Goshen, 50c; choice western, 37½@40c; good, 30@ 35c; common, 15@25c, but not in demand. Dagging is in demand at 27½@28c for India, and 26@26½c for Kentucky power; hand loom 24@26c. No beans in market. Eggs are firm and scarce at 30@35c. Flour quiet but firm; common $5 50@5 75; super $7@8, X $9@10, XX $10 50@11, XXX $12@13; fancy brands $14@15 50. Chickens scarce, selling at $5 00 for young, and $6@6 50 for old. Potatoes are scarce and firm; good sell at $4 50@5 per bbl. Onions, $3 00@3 75. Sweet Potatoes $3 per bbl, or 1 per bushel. Molasses firm at 70@80c for St. Louis refoubled; no New Orleans of consequence in market; 57½@ 60c. Sugar firm at 19@20c for white crushed and powdered and coffee sugars at 17¼@18½c; brown 14@17c. Rio Coffee, fair to choice, 24@ 27½c. Cuff Lime $2 20@3 50; Cape Lime, $2 25@ 3 50. Western reserve cheese, 17@18c; factory, 19@20c; English dairy, 19@20c.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

A WISH.
BY MATTHEW ARNOLD.

I ask not that my bed of death
From bands of greedy heirs be free;
For three I bestge the latest breath
Of fortune's favored son, not me.

I ask not each kind soul to keep
Tearless, when of my death he hears;
Let those who will, weep!
There are worse plagues on earth than tears.

I ask but that my death may find
The freedom to my life denied;
Ask but the folly of mankind
Then, then at last, to quit my side.

Spare me the whispering, crowded room;
The friends who came, and gape, and go;
The ceremonious air of gloom—
All that makes death a hideous show!

Nor bring, to see me cease to live,
Some doctor full of phrase and fame,
To shake his sapient head and give
The ill he cannot cure a name.

Nor fetch, to take the accustomed toll
Of the poor sinner bound for death,
His brother doctor of the soul,
To canvass with official breath.

The future and its viewless things—
That undiscovered mystery [wings
Which one who feels death's winnowing
Must needs jeer clearer, sure, than he!

Bring none of these! but let me be,
While all around in silence lies,
Moved to the window near, to see
Once more before my dying eyes

Bathed in the sacred dawns of morn,
The wide aerial landscape spread—
The world which was ere I was born;
The world which lasts when I am dead.

Which never was the friend of one
Nor promised love it could not give,
But lit for all its generous sun
And lived itself, and made us live.

There let me gaze, till I become
In sense with what I gaze on wed!
To feel the universe my home,
To have before my mind—instead

Of the sick-room, the mortal strife,
The turmoil for a little breath—
The pure eternal course of life,
Not human combatings with death.

Thus feeling, gazing, let me grow
Composed, refreshed, ennobled, clear;
Then willing let my spirit go
To work or wait elsewhere or here!

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

Common Grape Wine.—Take any quantity of sound, ripe grapes; with a common cider press extract the juice; put it into barrels, cover the bung lightly; after fermentation has ceased, cork it; place it in a cellar or house. In twelve months you will have good wine, which improves by age; let it stand on its lees.

Oyster Catchup.—Take one gallon fresh oysters, and pound and mash them well, with a mallet. To a quart of oysters, add a quart of wine, a half ounce of mace, one ounce of ground spice or cloves, quarter of a pound of salt; boil slowly twenty minutes, strain through a wire sieve, and bottle and seal for future use.

To Make Calicoes Wash Well.—Infuse three gills of salt in four quarts of boiling water, and put the calicoes in while hot, and leave them till cold; in this way the colors are rendered permanent, and will not fade by subsequent washing. So says a lady who has made the experiment herself. Nothing can be cheaper or quicker done.

Pickled Tomatoes.—A lady friend tells us she has had excellent success in pickling cucumbers, tomatoes, etc., by putting them, with no preparation except wiping clean, in a jar, and covering them with common molasses and setting the jar in a warm place. The juice in the fruit comes out and causes the molasses to ferment, making excellent vinegar and pickling the fruit in the process.

Practical Hints.—A coating of three parts lard and one part rosin, applied to farm tools of iron or steel, will effectually prevent rust. Common nails heated red hot and then dipped into cold water will clinch and answer the purpose of wrought nails. The sharp corner of a common Indian arrow head, or flint, will cut glass effectually. A good wagon jack may be made of boards two or more feet long. Place the board in front of the wheel, one end on the ground, and the other just under one of the spokes, close up to the felloe; then take hold of the spoke on the opposite side of the wheel and lift it, at the same time placing the second board under the axle. In this way a loaded wagon may be lifted with ease. Rusty nails may be drawn from wood without difficulty, by first giving them a blow hard enough to start them a little. A gun will not need cleaning for five years, if the muzzle is tightly corked and a piece of rubber kept upon the tube under the hammer when standing idle.

Extra Mules and Horses for the South. Alex. McClintock, of this county started eighty head of the finest mules and horses in this county to middle Georgia.—True Kentuckian.

Sale of Cattle and Sheep.—Mr. N. F. Pack sold to Daniel Gano, twenty head of three year old cattle, at $84 per head, and ninety head of sheep, at $4 25.—Georgetown Times.

The Cultivation of Blackberries.—There is probably no fruit more valuable as an article of food than the blackberry. It comes at a season of the year when the prospect of fruit generally are especially necessary to healthy digestion. It is in itself an antidote to the common complaints of the warm season. Its roots possess the medical properties adapted to the indisposition peculiar to the latter part of the summer. It may be cultivated as well as strawberries, cherries, peaches or apples. Instead of depending on the wild briar for our only supply of blackberries, we should cultivate them in our gardens and orchards, and bring them to their highest perfection. The New Rochelle or Lawton and the Kittatinny are two favorite varieties of the domesticated blackberry, but where these cannot be procured, the best specimens of the wild briar may be taken and cultivated. With proper attention, they will succeed anywhere, and the fruit will be delicious. The Rural World recommends the cutting the canes in summer, so as to keep them to about the height of four feet. They are more productive thus trained, and less troublesome. They thus require no staking or other care. They will reward you for your labor, and plenty of manure. Every one should have a patch.
